

Position: Senior Video Editor/ Creative Lead

About the Position

The senior video editor is responsible for advanced video editing and creating professional-grade content, managing complex projects independently.

Education : Bachelor's degree in Visual Communication, Media Studies, Animation, or related fields

Experience: 3-5 years of experience in professional video editing, with expertise in motion graphics and colour grading.

Skills

- Advanced knowledge of Adobe Products, e.g., Lightroom, Photoshop, Premiere and After Effects.
- Strong understanding of cinematography and visual storytelling.
- Ability to work with 2D/3D motion graphics and animations.
- Attention to detail and creative problem-solving skills.

Responsibilities

- Edit videos to professional standards, including colour grading, advanced transitions, and motion graphics.
- Creative thinking ability to translate raw footage into a finished product while following a script or storyboard
- Refine and synchronize audio and video with precision.
- Time management skills to complete edits and revisions in accordance with strict deadlines
- Mentor junior editors and videographers to enhance team efficiency.
- Ensure videos align with institutional branding and messaging.

Additional Requirements

- A strong understanding of post-production
- Positive attitude, contributing to culture
- High coordination with other team members
- Continued learning; an inclination to learn
- Capable of training junior team members
- Ability to execute on long-term goals
- Overseen editing on 500+ projects

Salary Range: As per the industry standards. Open Positions: 3

About the organisation

Jarvis has been working in the social impact space for about a decade, and has established itself as a pioneer in data and technology-driven initiatives. Furthering their mission we are launching a new initiative aimed at driving much-needed and meaningful change. Through investigative storytelling, awareness campaigns, and community-driven efforts, we aim to shed light on a critical issue that shapes society. The work will bring hidden realities to the forefront while equipping individuals with the knowledge and tools to navigate an evolving digital landscape. If you are driven by curiosity, truth, and action, this is where your journey begins. Interested candidates must apply with a CV, Cover Letter, and Creative Profile.